Prime Minister

Rationale: Whereas Section 13 (1) and (2) of the Anti-Money Laundering Act, 1999, prescribes that financial institutions are duty-bound to report the transactions to the Anti-Money Laundering Office. When it turns out that such transactions are the transactions using cash exceeding the sums prescribed in the ministerial regulation or are the transactions related to the property being valued exceeding the amount prescribed in the ministerial regulation, it is expedient to fix the sums in the transactions using cash and fix the property value in the transactions related to the said property. It is thus necessary to issue this Ministerial Regulation.
